

Saylorsburg Woman Killed As Tractor Runs Into Tree

Crushed Chest Announced As Fatal Injury

SAYLORSBURG — A 34-year-old farmwife was killed instantly yesterday afternoon when she was crushed between a tree and the large rear wheel of a tractor she was driving.

The victim was Alverta Knecht of Saylorsburg RD 1. The accident occurred at about 2:30 near her farm home.

State Trooper Pete Sabinsky of the Lehighton sub-station investigated. Trooper Sabinsky gave these details:

Mrs. Knecht was pulling a load of hay from a field on her father's farm to the barn at her own home. The father is Charles Van Buskirk.

As the tractor started down a hill toward the Knecht home it apparently went out of control. Sabinsky said no skid marks were found near the tractor and that this discounted an earlier theory that the tractor's brakes may have locked while the vehicle was in motion.

Strikes Tree

The tractor swerved off the narrow field-lane connecting the field with the nearby farm. In so doing it hit a tree. The woman was pinned between the tree, the tractor seat and the rear wheel.

Dr. John Martucci, Brodheadsville, was called to the scene. Mrs. Knecht was dead when the physician arrived, police said.

Last night Dr. Charles H. Rushmore, Monroe County coroner, said that death was due to a crushed chest.

A truck was brought to the scene of the accident. The tractor was pulled up the hill to free the body from its position. The body was taken to Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville, after the investigation at the scene.

Mrs. Knecht is survived by her husband, Henry, an employee of the State Department of Highways; three sons, Delbert Charles Wesley, 10; Raymond Robert, 8 and Richard Lee, 19 months; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Buskirk; a brother, Wesley W. Van Buskirk, Kunkletown and a sister, Ellen C. Van Buskirk, at home.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at Kunkletown Reformed Church. Rev. Adam Bohner will officiate. Friends may call Saturday after 7 p. m. at Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville.

Britain To Push Plans In Cyprus

LONDON, July 12 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden said today Britain will push plans to give self-government to Cyprus, but not "until terrorism has been overcome."

Eden brushed aside the idea of putting the dispute over the island colony before NATO now. The United States reportedly favors this course.

Eden's statement to Parliament on government policy avoided any reference to self-determination. This is the No. 1 demand of Greek-speaking Cypriots fighting to end British rule and join the island with Greece.

Notice

In Nicosia, Gov. Sir John Harding told the people of Cyprus that island extremists are beginning to crack. Therefore he saw no reason for further delay in developing self-government.

The Cyprus governor appeared in a broadcast for "patience and common sense." He asked Cypriots to "tackle this problem one step at a time." Harding warned there would be no relaxation in the drive against terrorism.

Eden said Lord Radcliffe, a legal expert, will fly to Nicosia tomorrow to start work on "the framework of a new liberal constitution."

This constitution, Eden said, will include "safeguards for the interests of all communities."

Gromyko Assails Policies Of Western Nations After Agreeing To Ceilings On Armed Forces

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., July 12 (AP) — Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko agreed today to proposed Western ceilings on armed forces of world powers. But he stirred up a bitter anti-Communist barrage by assailing Western policies around the globe.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister told the U.N. Disarmament Commission Moscow is ready to accept Western proposals to cut to 2½ million men each the armed forces of the United States, Soviet Union, and Communist China and to 750,000 each the forces of Britain and France. He rejected President Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan.

Eisenhower Reveals Plans For Campaign

By The Associated Press

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER will go to San Francisco the week of Aug. 20 to accept the second term nomination he is expected to receive from the Republican National Convention.

Then, starting around Sept. 15, Eisenhower will open his re-election campaign, flying to different parts of the country and making five or six major radio-TV speeches in the six weeks before election.

This preview came from Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall Thursday after Hall and Eisenhower went over the plans at the President's Gettysburg farm.

The GOP chairman said he looks for Nixon to play a big and "very vigorous" role in the campaign.

Eisenhower came in for some sharp criticism yesterday from Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who wants the Democratic nomination to run against the President this fall.

Harriman, speaking in Washington, D. C., pictured Eisenhower as a weak man who is "dominated" by the Republican "old guard" and "big business." The New Yorker also expressed the view in a National Press Club luncheon address that Eisenhower has been "naive" in dealing with Red Russia.

Navy Officer Warns Of Young Talent

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — A former Navy intelligence officer now serving as professional consultant on communism to the radio-television industry said today the greatest danger of Red infiltration is among the younger performers.

"It is advantageous to their careers, if not to become party members, at least to become 'progressives,'" he said. "They are afraid if they don't go along they won't get opportunities."

The testimony came from Vincent Hartnett of New York at a hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee is inquiring into a "Report on Blacklisting" in the entertainment world, sponsored by the Fund for the Republic.

Hartnett testified that "not more than five per cent of the Communists in the entertainment business have been uncovered." He said there were probably 150 Reds in the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists and "also Communist blocs" in Equity and the American Guild of Variety Artists.

Officials

Officials of both AGVA and Equity challenged Hartnett's testimony. Jackie Bright, national administrative secretary of AGVA, said in New York: "We defy Hartnett to show that there is a single Communist in AGVA, let alone a Communist bloc."

Alfred Harding, assistant to the president of Actors Equity, said in New York that "over a period of 30 years allegations of this kind have been advanced with varying degrees of responsibility" and added:

"Every member of Actors Equity Assn. who has been identified in any way in this connection has denied under oath that he is a Communist and no evidence has been presented whether those charges are true."

Then he took off on blasts against the West, its defense pacts, and particularly American "monopolists" who are, he said, pushing the arguments race to garner huge profits.

Angered, U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. retorted Gromyko had made a "scurrilous attack" on the United States in accord with the "worst type of Stalinism."

Lodge declared Gromyko is in no position to cast aspersions on policies of others "as long as Russia holds satellites in an iron grip among which the heroic Poles are trying to escape with the applause of the world."

Ransom Note For Weinbergers Signed 'Your Baby Sitter'

WESTBURY, N. Y., July 12 (AP) — Police disclosed today that the July 4 kidnaper of Peter Weinberger signed the ransom note "your baby sitter." The signature was worthless as a clue because the family never hired a baby sitter.

Nassau County's chief of detectives, Stuyvesant Pinell, discussed with reporters details of the ransom note not hitherto publicized. He told them:

"The note had 35 or more words in it, which certainly points to premeditation and preparation."

The grammar was correct and apparently the work of an adult, he added. Handwriting experts, however, have been unable to determine the age or sex of the writer.

As for the kidnaper, Pinell declared:

Either Sex

"It could be a man or a woman, two men or even two women."

The 5-week-old baby was taken from his carriage on the patio of his home in mid-afternoon. The ransom note demanded $2,000 in cash.

In telephone calls last Friday, a man satisfied the child's father, Morris Weinberger, that he was the kidnaper. He upped the ransom demand to $5,000.

Weinberger, a well-to-do wholesale drug executive, agreed to pay the money and publicly pleaded for instructions from the kidnaper on how to get it to him.

The only result was a rash of hoax phone calls that sent the baby's mother, Beatrice, 33, on several futile missions with the cash on her person.

Three persons thus far have been arrested from the scores who have plagued the heartbroken parents with telephone calls.

The FBI threw its full resources into the investigation yesterday for the first time.

Agents Padlock Firms

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 (AP) — More than 40 Internal Revenue agents today began padlocking various small business firms throughout eastern Pennsylvania for failure to pay social security and income taxes withheld from employees.

In quick succession, delegates of Iran, Britain, France, Nationalist China, Canada, Australia and Peru also replied to Gromyko. They assailed him for straying from disarmament into global politics.

Gromyko looked grimmer than usual when he departed after the commission adjourned for lunch.

Gromyko regarded his speech as so important that he had English translations prepared for the delegates. This is unusual with the Russians. Early in his speech, he dropped Russia's proposal for troop ceilings of from 1 to 1½ million for the United States, China and the Soviet Union and 650,000 each for Britain and France.

Ike Pleased To Run With Nixon

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 12 (AP) — President Eisenhower made it "absolutely" clear today that he still would be pleased to team up with Vice President Nixon on the Republican ticket this year.

The recuperating President also decided to go back to Washington and the White House next Monday or Tuesday.

It was Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall who told reporters Eisenhower still would be happy to have Nixon as his vice presidential running mate. Tomorrow the President will have a chance to give that assurance to Nixon in person.

Hall flew in from Washington today for an hour's political huddle with Eisenhower. Nixon arrives tomorrow, with Secretary of State Dulles, mainly to report on his round-the-world trip and calls at six Asiatic capitals.

Expected

The expected rather than the unexpected came out of the Eisenhower-Hall conference and a subsequent session the Republican chairman held with newsmen.

There was word that:

Eisenhower will appear in person at the GOP National Convention in San Francisco in August to accept his nomination.

The assistant Republican leader, in the House, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, will place Eisenhower's name in nomination.

At present there is "no indication" anyone else other than Nixon will be put in nomination for vice president.

Hall left one intriguing item hanging. He said that "in a sense" as a result of his talk with Eisenhower, he may have something to say in the near future about the vice presidential candidacy. Also, he said, in the next few days "we will be able to say who will nominate the vice president."

Italian Ship Reaches Port

HALIFAX, N. S., July 12 (AP) — The 7,500-ton Italian freighter Dea Mazzella, carrying 33 survivors of the Panamanian cargo ship Estoril, limped into port here today with 20 feet of her bow pushed back like a landing barge.

The survivors of the Estoril, her full crew—were plucked from two lifeboats by the Mazzella after the ships collided in a fog 450 miles east of Boston early Wednesday.

Steel Negotiations Quiet After Two-Hour Session

Dulles Pleads For Additional Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, pleading for more foreign aid money than the House voted, said today "it would be a disaster" to relax now in the face of the threat of world communism.

Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went before the Senate today after the House voted to hold foreign aid appropriations to $3,000,000,000.

Radford testified that the "serious reductions" voted by the House, from President Eisenhower's request for $4,000,000,000, would "involve serious jeopardy to our security position and might well lead to a further weakening of the defense efforts to our allies."

Testimony

The Dulles-Radford testimony was reported to newsmen by the committee after they appeared in a closed session.

The most that the administration can hope for is an increase in the foreign aid appropriation to $4,014,000,000, the ceiling set in authorization legislation that has already passed Congress.

Whatever appropriation the Senate votes for would have to be adjusted with the $3,600,000,000 the House voted yesterday.

The summary of testimony showed that Dulles told the Senate committee any appropriation substantially below the four-billion-dollar authorized ceiling would be interpreted abroad as meaning that Congress believed the danger passed.

He said that while developments in the world picture have been favorable, "it would be a disaster if we were now to sit back and assume that victory has been won."

Translation

"It might seem easy to cut dollar figures," he said, "but these have to be translated into people and places, and it is impossible to select any area supported by this mutual security program that this nation could sacrifice without the gravest danger to our own security."

The cuts voted by the House could have a serious psychological effect upon the nations of the free world who would relax their own great efforts if they felt the United States did not consider further efforts necessary."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) urged the Senate to vote an appropriation all the way up to the four-billion-dollar ceiling.

Smith said the cuts voted by the House were due "to a complete misunderstanding of what we mean by the so-called foreign aid program." He added:

"It is not 'give-away aid' in any true sense. The funds asked for by the President are for the protection of the United States and its 160 million people against the continuous threat of the Communist menace."

Smith asked that the Senate "give a full vote of confidence to the President at this critical time."

House Votes

For Increases

In Pensions

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — Over administration protests, the House unanimously voted today for a general increase of around 10 per cent in payments to some two million veterans disabled by their military service.

The roll call vote of 391-0 passed the compensation bill and sent it to the Senate where it faces an uncertain future at this point late in the session.

Offer

Offered by Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) of the Veterans Affairs Committee, the measure would add an estimated 172 million dollars the first year to Veterans Administration compensation payments now running about $1,800,000,000 a year. The bill's costs would decrease in later years.

Milford Man Dies In Fall

MILFORD—A 66-year-old retired man was accidentally killed yesterday afternoon when he fell into a 26-foot deep well. He was Rudolph Wassmer. His home was on Forest Lake Road in Lackawaxen Township, Pike County, near Lake Teedyuscung.

Milford State Troopers Glenn James and John McCarthy investigated the incident. State police gave these details:

At about 1 p. m. Wassmer apparently went out on his property to check the depth of water in the well. He fell head first into the well.

Police found the body submerged in about 30 inches of water. It was thrust downward, head-first.

The body was removed to Stroyan-Crellin funeral home, Pike County Coroner J. S. Bullock ruled it an accidental death, police said last night.

Walter Warns Veterans Of Possible Communist Movement

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 (AP) — The chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities warned tonight "there is more possibility of the success of the international Communist movement now than at any time in the past."

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), referring to policy shifts in Russia, said "the new course that Stalin's successors are taking is having a tremendous impact in the free nations, in the so-called neutralist nations and even regrettably in the United States itself."

Walter told the 37th annual encampment of the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars in a prepared address "we are urged to believe that a new era" has begun and that "we should enter the embrace of Soviet friendship."

The Pennsylvania congressman belittled what he called this "propaganda barrage" but added that the campaign though "fraudulent" is having success "almost beyond conception."

Walter described "today's revolutionaries" as "no longer raucous, frenzied fanatics" and said "they walk surely in the once restricted provinces of the university, the church and even finance and industry."

Walter laid heavy emphasis on hearings now being conducted by his committee on a "Report on Blacklisting" published by the Fund for the Republic.

He declared the "report pretends to be completely objective and impartial" but "it is about as partisan and prejudiced as it is possible to be." He added:

"The report considers membership in the Communist conspiracy as a 'political belief.' It holds that anyone who refuses to hire a Communist—and anyone who fires a Communist—is engaged in 'political discrimination.'"

Effect

"Its total effect is to blacken the name of every organization and individual who has sincerely and patriotically been engaged in trying to get rid of Communist conspirators in the movies and on radio and television."

Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), three times national commander-in-chief in the VFW, charged that the present 84th Congress would have "killed" all the bills increasing federal benefits to veterans "if this wasn't an election year."

Explanation

The governor explained that under Federal regulations the State must determine the eligibility of recipients before it can requisition surplus foods from the Federal government. This procedure normally takes four to six weeks to get the supplies in hand for distribution.

"I hope we may be able to do far better than this," Leader said. The governor told reporters the state may request the Federal government to waive the requirement for prior determination of eligibility.

Leader held his press conference in Pittsburgh following a regional meeting of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

South Manifesto

Calls For Defeat

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — A new Southern manifesto declared tonight "the pending so-called civil rights legislation" threatens the liberties of all citizens.

Signed by 83 members of the House from 11 states, the statement called on the House and Senate to defeat the legislation.

Rivals To Hold Second Meeting Today

PITTSBURGH, July 12 (AP) — Steel negotiators today resumed efforts to end the 12-day old nationwide steel strike and recessed nearly two hours later without a word of progress. However, another negotiating session was scheduled for tomorrow at 10 a.m.

The session appeared to end on a more amiable note than was evident before it began when Union President J. McDonald said the industry "has no intention" to work out a new wage contract "at this time."

The industry's top spokesman immediately denied McDonald's statement. And when the meeting ended neither industry nor union leaders had any further comment.

Mediators

The Federal Mediation Service's three-man team sat in on the meeting for only 45 minutes, then said it was leaving the two parties to "bargain in good faith."

Shortly before the meeting recessed, the mediators were summoned back to the negotiating room. Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Mediation Service, then told newsmen another session will be held tomorrow. He said he felt the spirit of collective bargaining was evidenced in the meeting—the first negotiation session held since the strike of 650,000 steelworkers began July 1.

Finnegan said he and his aides would be standing by tomorrow morning when the meetings are resumed. But he declared the government has no plans to sit in on the session.

The exchange of statements by McDonald and John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel Corp. and top industry negotiator, came shortly before the government arranged peace talks began.

Reply

After McDonald said he believed the industry had no intention to work out a new contract immediately, Stephens said:

"I can assure you that I and my associates will do our utmost to reach agreement."

The statements were made only minutes before the resumption of negotiations between the union and industry.

In advance of today's session, the steel industry's Coordinating Committee held a closed meeting. The Committee is composed of representatives of 12 of the nation's biggest basic steel producing companies—all shut down by the strike.

There was no indication that either side had shown any willingness to move from pre-strike positions.

At that time the companies were standing firm on an offer of a 52-month contract which they said would have given workers a 17-2-3 cents hourly package pay increase in the first year.

The union rejected the offer and estimated the first year package value at 14 cents.

Egypt's Leader

On Visit

BEIGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 12 (AP) — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, leading champion of Arab independence of East-West blocs, came to Yugoslavia today for conferences with two other world exponents of neutrality.

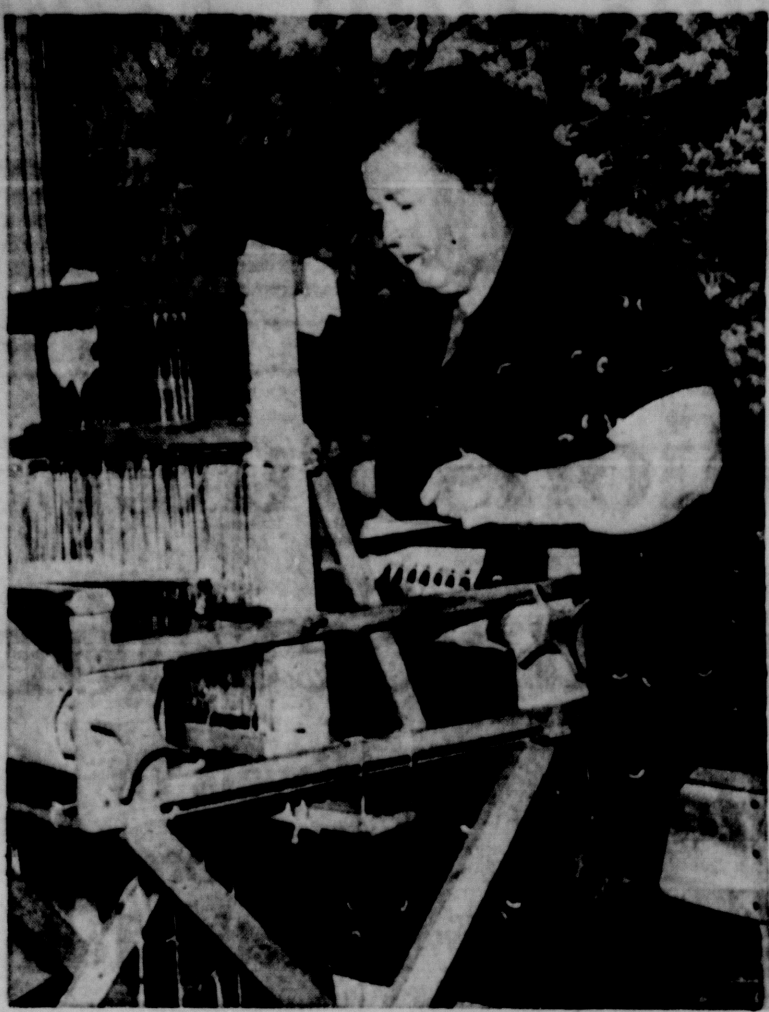

His eight-day stay in Yugoslavia will be concluded with a meeting with President Tito of Yugoslavia and Indian Prime Minister Nehru at the secluded island of Brioni, Tito's Adriatic retreat.

Political informants predicted the talks will produce some sort of agreement aimed at expanding and promoting their own neutrality bloc among nations.

Statements

Public statements of the three leaders already have indicated a considerable area of agreement on a policy of "active coexistence" with both East and West power groupings, but independence from them.

Egyptian press dispatches said a top subject of discussion will be the efforts of countries still under foreign domination to achieve full independence, and that "obviously the Algerian problem will figure prominently on the agenda."

'Kidnap' Search Proves False Alarm

SCRANTON, July 12 (AP)—Northeastern Pennsylvania police were alerted today to track down a New York taxicab bearing two women and a baby believed to be kidnapped Peter Weinberger, Westbury, N. Y.

But when state troopers caught up with the cab at Clark's Summit, eight miles west of here, it proved a false mission.

No Connection
The child was not the Weinberger baby. State police said there was nothing to connect the people in the cab with the kidnapping eight days ago.

VanBuskirk Named Member Of Farmers Home Administration Committee For Monroe County

RALPH D. VanBuskirk, of RD 1, Saylorsburg, is the new member of the Farmers Home Administration County Committee, Frank Orendo, county supervisor announced this week.

VanBuskirk's appointment became effective July 1. The committee on which he will serve determines the eligibility of local farmers who apply for Farmers Home Administration loans.

The other two members are Arlington W. Martin, Effort, and Mrs. Alice Wicks of RD 2, East Stroudsburg.

Each agricultural county in the country has a similar committee of three members who are responsible for determining loan applicants' eligibility, certifying the value of farms being purchased or improved through Farmers Home Administration loans, and making recommendations on loan approvals and loan servicing actions.

Each member is named for three-year term and one appointment expires each year. A member completing his three-year term cannot succeed himself. At least two of the members must be farmers.

The committee works with the county supervisor in connection with all types of loans. These include farm operating loans and loans to buy, improve, or enlarge efficient family-type farms in this area. They also include loans to farmers or their nonprofit associations to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices including improving permanent pastures, terracing, soil erosion measures, farmstead water systems, irrigation, drainage, and many other conservation practices.

Most of the soil and water conservation loans and loans to buy or improve farms are made from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency. Some of these loans, however, and all loans for operating farms, are from annually appropriated funds.

The agency makes emergency loans in area designated for that purpose by the Secretary of Agriculture. Monroe County is designated for emergency loans because of the drought and floods during 1955.

No loans of any type can be approved for an applicant whose credit needs can be handled adequately by other credit sources.

The regular office staff of the Farmers Home Administration serving Monroe County consists of the county supervisor, Frank Orendo, and Katherine R. McFadden, county office clerk. The office is located in room 210 Post Office Building, Allentown and serves Carbon, Lehigh, Monroe, Northampton and Pike counties.

Members of the Garden-Club of Portland motored thru the Pocono Mountains Tuesday and visited places of interest. Following the tour, dinner was enjoyed by the group including Mrs. Philip Strunk, Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon, Mrs. John Early, Mrs. Frank Morhard, Mrs. John Young, Miss Margaret Stine and Mrs. James Weidman Jr.

Mrs. Mabel Collins, of Palm Beach, Fla., is spending the summer with Mrs. Lela Williams at Stateford.

Mrs. Fred Gardner and granddaughters Kay and Patty Ribble, spent two days with her daughter, Mrs. William Cornwell Jr., and children Terri and Lee, Blairtown, N. J.

Monroe County Applies For Surplus Food Supplies

First Arrival Expected Next Week

MONROE COUNTY yesterday applied for surplus food supplies from the State department of property and supplies.

Food would be distributed to an estimated 2,600 persons in this county—including about 1,900 persons in families of Ronson Corp. of Pennsylvania employees who are now on strike.

A spokesman for county commissioners said last night that food "is expected to begin arriving about the middle of next week." H. Ray Saunders, commission clerk said that the food would be brought to Monroe from district distribution points in Clarks Summit and Jim Thorpe.

Decision to apply for the surplus commodities was made yesterday morning at a regular commissioners' meeting. It had been under consideration for more than a week.

Proposal

The original proposal to make the application was pressed on commissioners by spokesmen for Local 1724, International Association of Machinists. There are an estimated 750 men from the local involved in the strike.

Contacts with State officials were made by Joseph Andress, recording secretary of the local. Andress halted action taken yesterday by the commissioners last night.

He said, however: "Our main interest in this matter is getting some food in for the men and their families. Seven weeks is a long time without paychecks and the program definitely is needed."

Andress said that in his previous contacts with Paul Worcester, surplus food division director in the State, he had been told that only two counties in Pennsylvania had not been taking advantage of the surplus program. These were Monroe and Pike.

The recent steel strike which hit major Pennsylvania industries has focused attention on the food surplus program. Much of the time during recent years it has proceeded without public recognition.

Some surplus foodstuffs have been used regularly in this county in the county home at Kellersville and other county institutions.

Commissioners indicated yesterday that, once the program is in operation locally it very likely will be continued. Food brought in under the program may also be used for persons on Department of Public Assistance rolls, officials said. In these cases specific eligibility rules apply.

Forms

To pave the way for the program county commissioners yesterday were in the process of preparing forms which will be used by individuals applying for the surplus foods. Commissioners will be in charge of the distribution.

Andress is serving as coordinator for the unit in offering the county assistance in administering their portion of the program.

During the past few days Northampton and six other counties have applied for inclusion in the surplus program. Most counties in central and northeastern Pennsylvania were hit by unemployment as an aftermath to the steel shutdowns. The Ronson strike preceded the steel strike by a month.

Ronson, Union Meet Today

ANOTHER negotiation session has been scheduled between representatives of the Ronson Corp. and the International Association of Machinists at 10 a. m. today at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The strike of some 750 members of Lodge 1724 at Ronson's three East Stroudsburg plants enters its sixth week today. The union is seeking more adequate job security within the framework of a seniority clause, in addition to a "substantial" increase in rates.

Affection Available For Injured Deer

HANCOCK, Iowa July 12 (AP) — Little Bucky with his high-topped boots is probably the best-dressed deer in deerdom.

He's a guest of the Rod Krummel family on a farm near here, and the object of lots of loving attention from the Krummels' five children.

What makes Bucky so special is that, besides being the pet of the Krummel family, he's probably the only deer either in or out of captivity who wears boots.

Bucky was living with his mother on the Krummel farm. About three weeks ago Bucky and his mother were taking it easy in a hay field when Krummel moved in with his mower.

Bucky's mother took off for the timber and Bucky undoubtedly was supposed to follow as fleetly as a fawn could flee.

Didn't Follow

But Bucky didn't follow and the mower snipped through his two rear legs just above the hooves. Krummel stopped the mower at once but Bucky's two front legs were also severely injured.

"I just couldn't do away with the little fellow, even though he was badly hurt," Krummel said.

He took the injured fawn to a veterinarian and all four legs were put in casts. Back at the Krummel home, when Bucky began to hobble on his casts, it was decided the fawn needed protection for his injured hooves.

Krummel took Bucky to a shoe repair man who made leather boots, four inches high which lace up the front.

Bucky is getting around nicely in his new boots and is thriving on bread and milk.

"We really don't have any plans for the little guy except to nurse him back to perfect health again," Krummel said.

Bucky may never be able to soar over fences the way other deer do but he'll never want for affection.

Celebration

The event is to be held in conjunction with the Carbon County Agricultural Fair.

Emergency Radio System To Be Used During Air Test

CONELRAD, THE NEW wartime emergency radio broadcasting system, will have its first full-scale test during Operation Alert 1956, July's nationwide Civil Defense maneuver.

The Conelrad feature of the test will take place between 4 and 4:30 p. m., Friday, July 20.

Conelrad has been specially designed to permit public broadcast of essential emergency information and instructions and still make it impossible for the enemy to utilize radio beams as navigational aids for his aircraft and missiles.

C. D. officials said that, since the actual geographical "coverage" of radio listeners by Conelrad remains to be determined, next week's test will serve two principal purposes.

The first is to provide the public with an opportunity actually to "use" Conelrad. The second is to find out whether Conelrad adequately and effectively "serves" all people in all places.

Monitors

Paul Crown, Monroe County C. D. coordinator, said two Conelrad monitors will be named for each borough and township. It will be their task to see whether the signals are received over the entire area.

Every radio and TV station in the United States will suspend regular programs during the test. When Conelrad is in effect, all stations joining in the alert will broadcast either on 640 or on 1240 kilocycles. This means they will be heard only when receivers are tuned to those frequencies.

Operation Alert will begin at 11 a. m. next Friday with a theoretical attack on the United States. The public will be asked to take part in the 10-minute "red" alert by taking cover in their homes or in nearby buildings if they are not at home. All street and highway traffic, except public carriers, will be brought to a halt.

Consistory Shows Films

KEYSTONE Consistory Club of Monroe County met last night at the John R. Leoline Summer home at Mintsink Hills.

Following a business session with R. J. Rockefeller, president, in charge, a nature film was shown by Jay Shumaker, Mountainhome.

Refreshments

Refreshments were served. The next regular meeting will be held at the Summer home of Ed Werkheiser at Pine Plains near Porter's Lake. About 50 members attended last night's meeting of the club.

Sentenced To Jail

BAGDAD, July 12 (AP) — An Iraqi who announced he would leave for France, join the French army and fight against the Algerian nationalists has felt the sting of Arab anti-French sentiment. The Baghdad Penal Court sentenced him to two years in jail "for insulting national feeling."

Roseto Council Installs New Grand Knight

ROSETO — Carl A. Zegalla, Wind Gap, was installed as grand knight of Father DeNisco Council, Knights of Columbus, at a meeting in the Goffredo building, between Bangor and Pen Argyl. He succeeds Dr. Leonard Rushin.

Gildo Phillips, Pen Argyl, a trustee, presented the grand knight's gavel to Zegalla.

During the business meeting, Michael Goffredo, six-point program chairman, gave a report on the joint committee meeting held Sunday. He outlined the actual duties of each committee for the coming year.

Angelo Cortez, Wind Gap, and Michael DeVito, Bangor, were appointed co-chairmen of the youth activities committee. Peter Renaldo, Roseto, was elected council advocate.

John Casciola, building committee chairman, gave a brief report on the progress being made to obtain land for the erection of a council home.

Talks were given by Frank Spadoni, Martins Creek, and Rev. Charles P. Sweeney, C.M., chaplain. The lecturer, Anthony Casciano, announced that a clam bake will be held Sunday, Sept. 2, at Roseto Park.

Driving With Arm Out Of Window Is Dangerous, Unnecessary Practice

The prospect of going through life without an arm, a leg or an eye is not a pleasant one to behold.

No matter how well an individual with a physical handicap re-adjusts his habits to meet the demands imposed by an exacting world, he still competes at a disadvantage with his fellow man in striving to reach the top.

Often, his handicap is the result of an unavoidable accident, one that is beyond the control of anyone. Sometimes, proper precautions have not been taken; perhaps carelessness creeps into the picture or common sense is not brought into play.

A practice that has brought about serious injury to a great many people over the years, and one that can be blamed on thoughtlessness above anything else, is for motorists to ride along a public highway with an arm protruding out the window. It's a common sight to see a car whiz by with the driver's left arm extended upward "holding the top in place."

An automobile and a convoy truck were involved in a sideswiping collision on Route 611 the other night. A young man who was driving the car lost his left arm because he had been riding with it hanging out the window.

The sympathies of everyone go out to this young man in his great misfortune. The regrettable part of the accident is that serious personal injury could have been avoided. Property damage was comparatively light, so there is every indication the young driver would have escaped injury had his arm been inside the car.

What has happened to one person can happen to others. Let us hope that his experience will teach all of us to be more careful as we ride along the highways. Accidents have a peculiar penchant for happening when least expected.

Parents Of Kidnaped Baby Subjected To Mental Torture By Twisted Minds

Whatever it is that prompts the twisted mind of man to pray on human misery is beyond human understanding. The despicable hoax perpetrated by two men who sent a Westbury, N.Y., mother on a lonely, futile vigil in the hopes of finding her kidnaped baby, could come only from the abysmal depths of warped minds.

The cruelty of their crime is an inexcusable inhumanity. What they did is, in a sense, as low a crime as the kidnaping itself. The hoax could not have been hatched in any mind not steeped in the vilest kind of evil.

Their motivation was "to see the cops running around."

For their moment of warped fun, they face a maximum of 10 years in prison. We cannot imagine that any judge or jury will give them less than the maximum penalty for their despicable actions. At that, they will be getting away cheaply.

George Sokolsky Says...

What Does Moderate Conservative Believe? New Term Is Difficult One To Define

It used to be that when men were uncertain as to where they wanted to go, they said that they walked in the middle of the road. As they did not define the width of the road, it was impossible by logic, calculus or logarithms to determine where the precise middle was.

Prior to this fanciful term there was one that described the left-of-center or right-of-center. But as the center was doubtful, it was altogether impossible to know precisely what was meant.

Assumedly, if a person said that he was left-of-center, he meant that his leanings were toward Karl Marx in some matters, particularly the economic. But in religion, he might be a Calvinist or a High Church Episcopalian, and in manners he might be a follower of Lord Chesterfield.

Now we have a new term which takes on several forms: Moderate, Moderation, Moderate Conservative. The term has little meaning because a moderate conservative is a person who is a conservative but prefers to be regarded as not altogether one. It would seem that those who so describe themselves are dodging the old label, Republican from which they cannot quite free themselves because it is on the ballot. They do not care to call themselves Democrats, because that would involve them in circumstances that might result in defeat. So they have adopted the term, moderate conservative, and go in for wishful thinking that no one would take the trouble to inquire into what their moderation amounts to.

A conservative is one who believes that the trials and errors of civilization, the risks and gains in history have produced a body of experience from which it is unwise to depart rapidly. He therefore conserves the best product of human experience, not expecting that the world can be changed in a life-time. He is not a preserver of ancient forms but a conservator of that which has worked out to be beneficial. Generally he accepts certain absolutes: in religion, for instance, God; in biology, that man is created being; in philosophy, he accepts free will; in economics, capitalism; in politics, he believes in the right of a people to choose their own government but he does not believe that government is all-wise, all-competent or should be all-powerful.

Now what does a moderate conservative believe to be true? I do not know. I do not know how to distinguish a moderate conservative from any other kind of conservative. Both President Eisenhower and Candidate Stevenson have hooked on to this term; therefore we are likely to hear much about moderates and moderation during the next few months, but it is too much to anticipate that anyone will bother to provide an analyzable definition. Politicians are not supposed to be definers and do not hire speech-writers with such qualifications.

Another term often used to describe a conservative is defeatist. If, for instance, one is shocked that so competent and knowledgeable a person as General Nathan Twining should say that Soviet Russia, which manufactured no military airplanes of international recognition in 1938, has, by 1956, done as well or better than the United States which in 1938 was the principal manufacturer of this commodity, he is likely to be called a defeatist. What is desired these days is that one should smile broadly like a movie actor posing for a still picture no matter what horrible error of judgment or action he encounters.

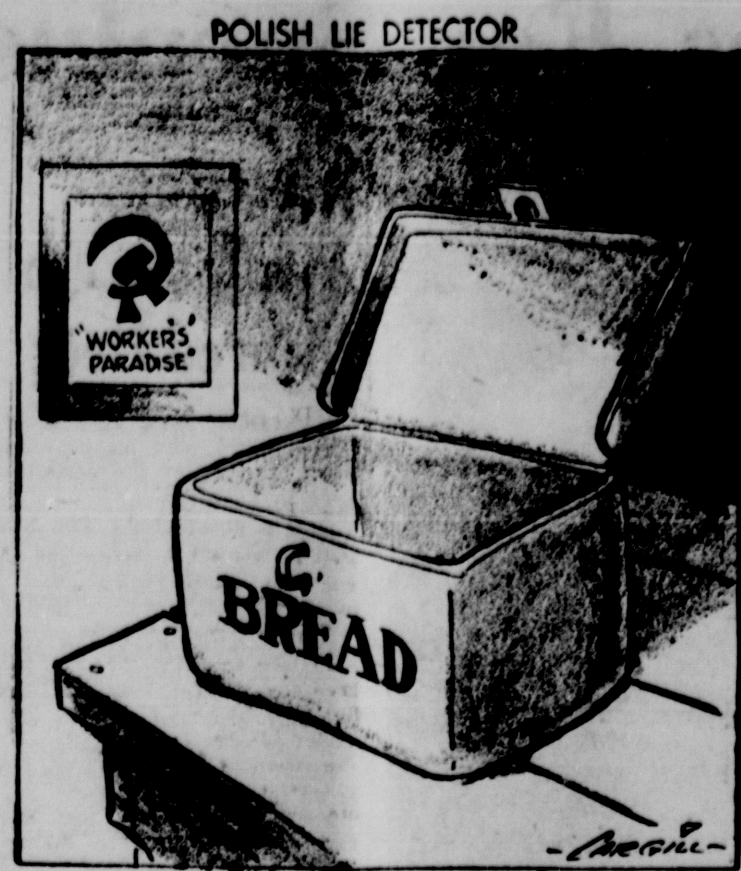

Actually the defeatist, if one can define such a term, is the person who takes what comes. The American who lets out a rip-roaring howl whenever he encounters official incompetence is not a defeatist but an incorrigible optimist who still believes in the power of the people and that they will right all wrongs if only they possess the facts.

There are still such incorrigible optimists in the United States who are not influenced by Karl Marx or John Maynard Keynes and who still believe that simple arithmetic proves a few facts of living and that if a nation spends its wealth prodigally, it is bound to go broke, but that in a representative republic all wrongs can be righted by the will and choice of the people.

Curiously such people do not lose hope, not even when they view the prospects of the 1956 election.

der, hot arguments, and a general contempt for navigation customs. Many a club of distinction has now become a seaside hamburger stand with weather signals. It is distinguishable from a frankfurter stand only through possession of a sunset gun. Once upon a time a yacht club was just about the best place to go for a fine dinner, but today you can find even the commodore's party playing it safe by bringing his own sandwiches.

The famous Rocking Cheer Fleet composed of kibitzers who sat on the club veranda and found fault with an occasional careless sailor as he moved to sea, has given up. It broke down trying to keep up with the increasing lack of correct seamanship. Many current yachtsmen are "quickie-trainers." They wear yachting caps but omit the necessary insignia indicating they got qualified in a hurry. They fly pennants, but without the letters "NRFWB" (Not responsible for weird behavior). They think the sign "Four mile speed limit going through fleet" means "Have fun," and they regard a buoy as a seagull perch. Charts? Who needs 'em? (Oh, well, they all seem to be enjoying themselves, anyhow.

Letting George Do It Is Bad Policy In Motoring

Want to avoid a fatal accident?—With yourself as star performer? Choose a Tuesday morning between six and seven a.m. with snowy road conditions, foggy weather, a taxi in reverse gear, driven by a woman under the age of 18 who has between three and six months experience at the wheel.

This unlikely combination is least likely to provide a fatality, according to tables prepared by an insurance company of Hartford, Connecticut. If you are like (God forbid) one of the 2,334,500 drivers who settled for a non-fatal automobile accident in 1955, here is the winning combination guaranteed to produce collision:

A pedestrian stepping from behind a parked car should attempt to cross the street between intersection and meet a speeding driver (this group accounted for 702,560 injuries last year) aged 25-64, male, with years of driving experience at the wheel of a passenger car. Most favorable conditions? Car of a passenger car, but defective brakes would help. Weather—clear. Road—dry. Between four and eight p.m. is the preferred hour, and Saturday the day.

The small booklet setting forth these gruesome facts is titled Fatal Fallacies. Its message is simply this—we are letting George do it, when it comes to driving. Although we sit in the seat reserved for the driver, we have already abdicated the driver's responsibilities.

George is sometimes the automobile manufacturer, in our minds. Didn't they install power brakes, power steering? You bet. Won't the car run itself—almost? You bet.

George is often the traffic cops. Don't they get paid for catching rule-breakers? You bet. Then let 'em catch me if they can.

Traffic rules? Fine high-grade rules they are, too. Designed for beginners, who don't know their way around as well as I. Rules for people named George, not for me.

Or sometimes George is the highway engineer—he who produced that fine straight asphalt path so tempting of speed, so assuring of safety. Shall we open her up, huh? Shall we see what she will really do? What can happen in broad daylight on a straightaway?

Bye-bye. Be seeing you at the undertaker's. Grim farewells were said 37,800 times last year to those who died in collisions. Waiting for George. Relying on something or someone else to turn the most important wheels of all—in the mind.

Bye-bye. Be seeing you in the hospital. Temporary farewells were said to 2,158,000 injured in collisions last year. Some of these casualties must rely on crutches, canes and the care of others the rest of their lives because someone relied on George.

"But it wasn't my fault!" Of course not, it never is. The blame rests squarely on that other fellow—what's his name?

Iron Curtain Trade Fairs Invite U. S. Participation

Washington, July 12 — The U. S. is contemplating taking part in some of the major trade fairs behind the Iron Curtain. Definite consideration is being given to fairs in Moscow, Warsaw and Prague. A special fund of $1,200,000 is being sought from Congress for this purpose.

A group of Administration officials is conferring with congressional leaders on this new plan for expanding contacts between the U. S. and the Soviet empire. These officials are Harold McClean, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for International Affairs, Harrison McClung, director of the Office of International Trade Fairs, and Theodore Steri- bert, head of the U. S. Information Agency.

They have told congressional leaders this project has been approved by the National Security Council, top policy agency of the Administration.

Also that both Russia and the satellites have let it be known they are eager to have the U. S. participate in their trade fairs. This is the first time that has happened.

The Security Council's approval of this new policy is based on three main factors. As explained to congressional leaders they are: (1) An impressive display of American goods and equipment behind the Iron Curtain would powerfully counteract hostile Communist propaganda; (2) operate to increase trade with the U. S. in non-strategic supplies; (3) strengthen and spread the spirit of freedom and hope among the masses who have had no other way of seeing and knowing anything about the U. S.

"We are firmly convinced it would be extremely advantageous to us to participate in trade fairs behind the Iron Curtain," said Steri-bert. "During the past two years, the Communist bloc has taken part in a number of fairs in the free world and won friends by doing that. But the free nations have participated in only two fairs behind the Iron Curtain, and then only on a limited scale. We are definitely falling behind the Reds in this activity."

More Details — The three officials were closely questioned about the proposed funds and the Communist fairs that will be attended.

"How did you arrive at $1,200,000?" asked Rep. John Rooney (D., N. Y.), Appropriations Subcommittee chairman.

"This amount is based on the view," explained McClung, head of the Office of International Trade Fairs, "that if we take part in these fairs we should do so in an impressive manner, in order to make the best possible showing in these Communist-ruled countries. If we're going to do this, we should do it in a manner worthy of us."

Senator Richard Russell (D., Ga.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, wanted to know what fairs are under consideration.

Steri-bert replied that a "number of invitations" have been received. Assistant Commerce Secretary McClellan added that no decisions have yet been made on any of them, pending Congress' granting the necessary funds.

"Poland will have a fair next year," pointed out Steri-bert, "and we would take part in it, if the opportunity presents. There is no question about the Soviet Union and the satellites wanting us to have displays at their trade fairs. They have invited us to do that. All that remains is for Congress to provide the money."

"We are not in a position to negotiate until Congress authorizes it," continued McClellan. "Once we have that authority, we will be in a position to determine what can best be accomplished and where."

"Do you intend to send trade teams to Iron Curtain countries?" demanded Representative Rooney. McClellan shook his head.

"Are you sure?" insisted Rooney. "We are not asking any money for that purpose," pointed out McClung, answering for McClellan.

On the Move — A big reshuffling is taking place in Washington's diplomatic corps. A number of ambassadors are being recalled to their home countries or sent to other posts. Among those departing are French Ambassador Maurice Couve de Murville, who has been assigned to Bonn; South African Ambassador Holloway, who is being shifted to London; Brazil's Ambassador Muniz, who is taking a new office in his country's new regime; Austrian Ambassador Gruber, who is being replaced by Dr. Karl Buresches, whose wife is a daughter of CIA Director Allen Dulles; and the Ambassadors of Egypt, Costa Rica, Ecuador and Uruguay, who are being supplanted by new arrivals.

However, Uruguay Ambassador Mora is remaining in Washington, as the new Secretary General of the Organization of American States. Laos is establishing its new embassy in the historic mansion of the late Mrs. Dwight Davis, widow of the Secretary of War under President Coolidge. The four-story brick house, a Washington showplace and scene of many brilliant parties, was bought by Laos for $225,000.

The Worst Crime

Every kidnaping inspires a surge of pity for the victim—a profound sense of compassion for the parents—and cold outrage directed against perpetrators of the crime. The Weinberger case has some similarities with the Lindbergh kidnaping. In the Lindbergh case all newspapers agreed to withhold publication of the ransom note. . . . Until they learned the note had been circulated by a syndicate. . . . Every kidnaping brings out the unspeakables and the lunacies slithering out of the darkness of their minds. In the Weinberger case—it was "The Things you were nabbed in a shakedown plot. . . . The Lindbergh tragedy had Gaston B. Means who wanted $100,000 from Mrs. McLean of Washington on the criminally false pretense that he could obtain release of the child.

Loathsome is a rather mild descriptive for sub-humans roused by a kidnaping: Those who engage in hoaxes, false tips and phony phone calls. . . . You may be stunned to discover that some even send threats to parents of the victim. . . . After Bruno Hauptmann was convicted for the kidnap-murder of the Lindbergh baby—the Lindberghs received seeds of letters threatening the murder of their other son.

The Lindbergh kidnap story had a tremendous impact. It was rarely out of the papers for 4 years. . . . It immediately affected the law of the land. . . . Soon after the crime was committed Congress enacted a law which expanded the power of Federal agents in the fight against kidnapers.

Frederick Lewis Allen's book, "Since Yesterday," described some of the dramatic details: "More police and reporters arrived; the nearest railroad station was transformed into a newspaper headquarters, news about the Lindbergh baby crowded everything else to the back pages of the papers; President Hoover issued a statement, the Governor of New Jersey held public conferences, anti-kidnaping bills were prepared by legislators in several states, the New York Times reported getting (in a single day) 3,331 phone calls asking for the latest news. . . . Bishop Manning of New York sent his clergy a special prayer for immediate use—declaring—in a case like this we cannot wait until Sunday." William Green asked members of the American Federation of Labor to aid in the hunt for the criminal. . . . Clergy of three denominations prayed over the radio for the boy's deliverance.

The Barker gang flourished until they kidnaped St. Paul's Edward G. Bremer. . . . He was finally released on payment of $200,000 ransom. . . .

A&P Places
New Cake
On Market

AFTER MONTHS of experiments A&P has succeeded in developing a true Chocolate Chiffon Cake. It has the smooth sweet taste of pure imported chocolate at its delicious best, and the lightness, delicacy and texture which makes Chiffon Cake so delightful.

Only the finest of imported Dutch cocoa is used and all other ingredients in this cake also are of the very best. Besides being delicious, Chiffon Cake is also a cake that will prove stimulating to the creative urge of every housewife. It can be served iced with a simple frosting, split and put together with ice cream or whipped cream or served with a hot sauce. There are 1001 dreamy, original desserts that can be prepared in minutes from this delicious Chiffon Cake. For special parties and occasions here are a few suggestions of how this versatile cake can be used:

Party Peppermint Cake
Prepare Instant White Frosting Mix according to package directions. Tint a pale pink and flavor with peppermint extract. Frost Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake and decorate with round chocolate wafers.

Chocolate Banana Split
Split Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake in half. Spread sweetened whipped cream between layers, cover with slices of banana. Place second layer on top, garnish with quarters of banana-arranged like spokes in a wheel.

Cherry Delight
Cut a generous wedge of Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake for each serving. Spoon cherry preserves over cake—garnish with whipped cream.

Sundae Cake
Cut a generous wedge of Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake for each serving. Place a small scoop of vanilla and a small scoop of chocolate ice cream on each side of wedge. Pour chocolate sauce over top—sprinkle with nuts—garnish with whipped cream and cherries.

Chocolate-Rum Dessert
Cut top off Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake with a sharp knife and hollow out cake leaving an inch of cake on bottom and sides. Mix cake crumbs with whipped cream which has been flavored with rum extract. Fill hollow of cake—replace top—frost entire layer with whipped cream. Chill well.

Puddin' Cake
Split Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake. Prepare 1 package Vanilla or Butterscotch pudding, cool; add chopped pecans. Spread between layers. Sprinkle top with confectioners' sugar.

Chocolate Fruit Cream Cake
Cut a generous wedge of Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake. Drain 1 small can mixed fruit. Thin marshmallow whip with a little of the syrup. Fold fruit into whip. Spoon over cake.

Frozen Dessert
Try a slice of Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake, a slice of ice cream, topped with another slice of chiffon cake. Place this in the home freezer until time for serving. It can be served with chocolate or other sauce.

Ice Cream Shadow Cake
Cut Jane Parker Chocolate Chiffon Cake in three layers. Spread 1 pint of ice cream (softened) between each layer. Use Peppermint, Vanilla, or Chocolate ice cream as preferred. Spread whipped cream on top and sides of cake; freeze. When ready to serve, remove from freezer, and drizzle cooled chocolate sauce over top and sides of cake. Cut in wedges and serve. If freezer isn't available, chill cake and have cream whipped before filling cake. Fill with ice cream, spread with cream. Drizzle sauce over top area, sides and serve at once.

The fully-controlled, scientifically-accurate, push-button electronic age forged ahead in the local laundry field this past week.

At Keiper's Laundry Inc. plant in Stroudsburg workmen completed installation of a new electronic dry cleaning unit. Through the use of perchlorethylene solvent the new unit "produces the finest odorless dry cleaning available anywhere," company officials said.

When garments are received at the plant each piece is carefully inspected. Various new synthetic fabrics—many of which require and get special handling—are separated and classified by fabric and color for the proper cleaning process.

With the new electronically-controlled process garments are "bathed in crystal clear solvent." Then they are "fluff-dried" and deodorized in crisp, clean air. At the end of the cleaning process each garment is carefully examined by trained spotters who remove any remaining spots on the fabric.

Other recent improvements have included new pressing methods which insure safety for dacron and other synthetics without streaking or "shining" the material. Garments are all "form-fitted" during the pressing process which finishes up the hand-turned, personal care given them, a company spokesman said.

Keiper's has operated for 35 years with a constant eye toward improvement of services. The new equipment, a company officer said last night, is the latest in the continuing effort by the company to "look to the future by bettering present service everyday."

TEN TOBYHANNA SIGNAL Depot employees received a total of $215.00 for suggestions for improvements in operations at the depot which will result in an estimated savings of $2,226.61 per annum. The awards were made recently in ceremonies at the depot. One of the suggestors, Robert P. Wideman (left), Tobyhanna, won three awards for a total of $55. Others pictured above and their winnings are (left to right) Alfonso R. DeSanto, $10 Scranton; George R. Zalepa, $10, West Pittston; Arthur J. Frisbie, $5, Lake Ariel; Thomas D. Fritz, Jr. $5, Audenried; George Kovatch, Jr. $15, Hazleton; James V. Mecca $20, Dunmore; Samuel E. Machamer, $35, Pocono Pines; Joseph A. Mancuso $10, Carbondale; Drew F. Faulkner $30, Scranton, and John F. O'Neill, Administrative Officer, Incentive Awards Committee, Mt. Pocono. Seated is Colonel Robert C. Angster, Depot Commanding Officer.

Deadline For Decision On Wheat Market Date Nears

FRIDAY, July 20, is the date when growers will determine how they want to market their 1957 wheat crop, David H. Griffith, Chairman of the Monroe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers yesterday.

Farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat as grain on a farm in 1957 are eligible to cast ballots in the wheat quota referendum. The polling place, for Monroe County, will be Chestnut Hill High School, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

A two-thirds favorable vote will mean that marketing quotas and penalties on excess wheat will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop. Under quotas, too, price support to growers in the commercial area who comply with their wheat acreage allotments will be at the full level available — between 75 and 90 percent of parity.

Marketing quotas have been approved by growers voting in referendums for the past three wheat crops. Last year, 77.3 percent of the growers voting favored quotas for the 1956 crop.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

After the front-page happenings of the last three days, the brides and birthday babies on the social page look extra good. We're lucky to have nothing worse to worry about than the showers spoiling a projected carnival or picnic, or wetting down a wedding party.

Spending of showers, they seem particularly fond of Thursday, the women golfers at Glen Brook seem to feel. Yesterday afternoon it caught most of them out on fourteen. The lightning probably ruined quite a few putts, and the shower did odd things to quite a few hair-ods.

The ones without permanents drooped and those with permanents curled like poodles, and as the dripping women came petting in they made quite a contrast to the card players, sitting so starched, perfumed and unruined.

But anyone tempted to complain might well remember last year. It didn't rain a single Thursday all summer long—not until that fatal Thursday when it rained a whole summer's worth all at once.

Thinking about getting our summer's worth of things, I suddenly realized that we haven't had a single major Sunday School picnic yet. Of course it's still early days, but I have a feeling that the really big picnics are gradually declining.

Around the turn of the century, they tell me, there were Sunday-Schools which chartered a whole train to take the picnickers on outings, and I remember when Island Park in the Gap seemed about to sink with the weight of the crowds. Or maybe when your eyes are only so high it doesn't take as many people to make a crowd.

Painting of our new store canopies posed several problems. To begin with, Marcia wasn't quite sure what size to paint the flowers so they would be in proportion, and could still be seen up and down the street as recognizable forms rather than blobs. Painting indoors she had to consider the intensity of color, once the blossoms were exposed to sunlight and weathering. Also, she was working with a weatherproof paint impregnated with cobalt, that had to be vigorously worked into the fabric. And, since the gray awning was hung against the wall of our garage, she had to hold it firmly with one hand while working with the other. The result, however, is proof of her good taste and skill.

Only one thing annoys her. The first canopy was installed before she had painted a yellow caterpillar on one of the leaves. This she means to rectify any day. So . . . if you see a red-haired young woman on a ladder at our store front some day soon, she isn't a "second story man." That's Marcia Clapp.

Susan Harl Visiting

Susan Harl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Harl, Stroudsburg, was the guest of Joan Kellow at Ocean City for two weeks, and upon her return, immediately went to the youth camp at Brainerd Presbyterian Center, Snyder'sville. After camp she will have Joan as her guest here.

One's reception at Wyckoff's is always a warm friendly one. But within the past few days, the cordial welcome of our store has been extended far beyond the two main entrances. It goes as a matter of fact, all the way to the curb, in two beautiful canopies that capture some of the Poconos' natural beauty in handpainted garlands of dogwood and laurel, two wild flowers native to this area.

Both canopies were designed and created by Marcia Clapp, an Indiana-born artist of great talent and versatility, who has maintained a studio at Bushkill for the past 18 years, and is now a confirmed year 'round resident of the Poconos. It was Marcia who, back in January, gave a new look to our Wyckoff Tea Room by painting, with oils, all of the black and white photographic murals in its windows. And it was she who, on the wings of this triumph, changed the entire decor of our dining room, and went on to add other touches of distinction to our store.

Marcia's talents seem unlimited. Her principal interest is sculpture, and she is working on a giant-size figure of a cat at the moment, in her secluded Red House with flowered shutters near Bushkill. She is a violinist too, as well as an interpretive dancer. About the only thing she cannot do, is sing. At least, she claims she cannot. Frankly, I would bet that if she decided to do it, she'd produce birdlike tones as clear as crystal . . . she's just had kind of a determined perfectionist.

Marcia Clapp tells you she has been blessed with good fortune most of her life . . . one of the luckiest bits of business being her family. Her father was a merchant, with an appreciation of beauty; her mother, Betty Clapp, was an artist with a special skill in marionettes. From the first moment Marcia showed an inclination toward self expression, her mother encouraged her to work with crayons, clay, and paints. Mrs. Clapp wrote little stories for her daughter to illustrate, and always Marcia's efforts were greeted with enthusiastic approval. "I was always given a sense of achievement," she recalls. There was great laughter, fun, and goodwill in their household . . . and it is not unusual that her two brothers also developed creative talents that took them far in the fields of aeronautics and commercial design.

After graduation from college, Marcia Clapp won a fellowship that permitted her to study art in eight European countries. Upon her return to America, she opened a studio in New York. Much of her work is done primarily because of her great love of art and her unceasing inner need to be creative. But once in a while she allows her talents to be utilized commercially. Such was the case years ago when she became annoyed at the miniature adult figures, imported by department stores from Germany, for displaying children's clothing. Working directly with children, and from their measurements, Marcia created a whole new line of mannikins which changed the entire concept of display, and brought realism into the store window. "My figures were sold all over the country," she says, "and in South America. I made a lot of money, for which I was grateful. But money wasn't my prime consideration and I dropped it. Other firms have capitalized on my idea ever since."

Painting of our new store canopies posed several problems. To begin with, Marcia wasn't quite sure what size to paint the flowers so they would be in proportion, and could still be seen up and down the street as recognizable forms rather than blobs. Painting indoors she had to consider the intensity of color, once the blossoms were exposed to sunlight and weathering. Also, she was working with a weatherproof paint impregnated with cobalt, that had to be vigorously worked into the fabric. And, since the gray awning was hung against the wall of our garage, she had to hold it firmly with one hand while working with the other. The result, however, is proof of her good taste and skill.

Only one thing annoys her. The first canopy was installed before she had painted a yellow caterpillar on one of the leaves. This she means to rectify any day. So . . . if you see a red-haired young woman on a ladder at our store front some day soon, she isn't a "second story man." That's Marcia Clapp.

Shiner For Miss New York

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—A roughhouse turned into regrets today for shapely—but slightly battered—"Miss New York" and her photographer-husband. They said it all resulted from too much celebration.

The pretty redhead, Mrs. Kay Grundy, 18, showed up in court with a shiner. Her husband, Douglas, 35, who used her to illustrate a magazine picture series on the "model wife," was accused of beating her up.

"I belted her," he agreed.

A Legal-Aid attorney, representing Grundy, said the couple's Greenwich Village apartment had been the scene of a steady round of parties and liquor since Mrs. Grundy won the "Miss New York" title last Thursday.

Choice
She was chosen to represent the state in the "Miss Universe" contest opening this coming Thursday in Long Beach, Calif.

At the hearing, a charge of felonious assault was reduced to third-degree assault. Grundy was paroled for trial later.

After the hearing, the couple walked off arm-in-arm, and kissed for the benefit of news cameramen.

Grundy told reporters the domestic battle resulted from a drinking party at which his wife's former husband was present.

Tough jobs demand a Universal 'Jeep'

Traction. 4-wheel drive gives the extra traction for traveling up steep grades or broken ground. The 'Jeep' is built to stand up and take it in tough usage.

Mobile power. With power take-off, the Universal 'Jeep' provides mobile power for operating welders, compressors, generators and many other kinds of specialized equipment.

Hydraulic lift. With hydraulic lift, the 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' operates graders, scrapers, post hole diggers and most 3-point hitch implements.

Now a 'Jeep' with longer wheelbase—the new model CJ-6. Carries larger, bulkier loads; has all the features that made the 'Jeep' famous.

A 4-Wheel-Drive Universal 'Jeep' takes you to the job, wherever it is—on the road or off! This rugged performer carries men and equipment over the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive. Then, when work calls for travel off the road—through mud, sand or snow, up hill or down—you shift a single lever for the extra traction of 4-wheel drive. With power take-off, or hydraulic lift, the Universal 'Jeep' does an almost endless variety of jobs. To find out what it can do for you, ask for a demonstration.

Including Poconos

Survey Conducted By Federal Reserve Bank Shows Optimistic Trend In Resort Sections

A SURVEY conducted by the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia shows hotelmen, restaurant owners and other businessmen in resort areas to be optimistic regarding the outcome of this vacation season.

Commenting on prospects in the Third Reserve District, which encompasses the Poconos, the bank said "It's a little early to make predictions comparing this season with last. However, 1955 was an unusually good year and one that would be hard to beat."

"Hotels, guests houses and cottages along the New Jersey and Delaware coasts and in the mountain resorts of Eastern and Southern Pennsylvania tell us of heavy registrations for all of July and in many cases for the first half of August."

"As always, the period from mid-August until Labor Day remains something of a question mark. Weather seems to be the deciding factor."

A great number of motels have been built in the past two years, particularly in the shore areas, according to the bank survey. With new superhighways and bridges to encourage visitors from greater distances, the motels have been given credit for bringing new guests into coast resorts.

"The growth and popularity of motels also have been noteworthy in parts of the Poconos and in other mountain resort areas of Pennsylvania," the bank said.

"Current reports from practically all of these vacation spots indicate excellent patronage for the motels — from early season on, and by both weekend and longer-staying guests. In the mountains, early season occupancy frequently runs higher in motels than in some of the larger hotels and guest houses."

"The newer motels are more pretentious affairs than those built a few years ago. Some of them even provide swimming pools and other recreational facilities approaching those offered by the old established hotels."

"Neither hotel rates nor cottage rentals are showing much change this year. Most of our resorts still are experiencing 'growing pains' in response to the increasing demand for accommodations. But with new motels coming in and the summer cottage construction continuing at relatively high levels, available facilities even at the peak season have kept just enough ahead of the demand to relieve any serious pressure for rate advances."

"The too - cool, too-wet weekends this Spring did nothing to help the early-season restaurant business at any of the resorts in this (Federal Reserve) district. But this is not an unusual experience and most proprietors feel that good summer-time receipts will offset much of the lag. Since mid-June, patronage has increased steadily and the spending pattern of customers appears about as liberal as in the 1955 season."

The survey points out that spending on amusements and for other forms of recreation also is said to be running close to a year ago. This is in spite of the fact that in 1955, Memorial Day was a three-day holiday; Independence Day was another. This year, they are one-day affairs. "Merchants in both mountain

Authority Incorporation Recorded

A CERTIFICATE of incorporation for Stroudsburg Parking Authority was recorded yesterday at Monroe County Court House.

Certificate At the office of Floyd Butz, registrar and recorder, George T. Robinson, solicitor for the borough, filed the certificate for local records.

The incorporation was given approval in Harrisburg June 27 by Henry E. Harner, secretary of the Commonwealth.

and seashore vacation areas report retail sales increasing seasonally from generally satisfactory levels prevailing through May and June. In gift shops, however, sales got off to a slow start," the survey showed.

There is a feeling, the bank noted, that "vacationists have become overly conscious of the weather. Others think that summertime visitors, having grown more accustomed to "blow-by-blow" reports of approaching storms, will take them more in stride, as was the case when most disturbances were just plain old-fashioned northeasters."

New Members Admitted

Frailey, Pocono Township, Elected President Of Monroe County Board Of School Directors

ROBERT C. FRAILEY, Pocono Township, was elected president of the Monroe County Board of School Directors yesterday.

Other officers named in a regular meeting in the office of John C. Litt, county superintendent, were: Dr. Evan C. Reese, vice president and Clyde C. Dietrich, treasurer. Harry J. Drennan continues in his post as secretary. His term expires on another date.

Two new members of the county board were sworn in by Litt. They are Dietrich, a Chestnut Hill Township school director, and Herbert Young, president of the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure.

Although Young is technically a resident of Porter Township, Pike County, recent legislation has made it clear that school directors are to vote and take part in county board affairs in the county in which the largest proportion of a jointure's school population is centered. In this case, with Young serving as president of the act, Strait and Pitts pointed out that schools in Monroe County have made special facilities available during past years for fully or partially handicapped children with loss of sight or hearing.

Dietrich and Young resigned T. B. Courtwright and Haldon Murphy, both of whom had previously resigned from the county board. Courtwright resigned to become business administrator for the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure last year. He was formerly a Middle Smithfield Township director.

Murphy resigned recently from both the Chestnut Hill and the county boards to become tax collector in his home township. The two positions are incompatible.

Major item of business before the meeting, other than election of officers and swearing in of new members, was a discussion of Act 429.

This act, as explained by Bennett Strait, special education supervisor, makes it mandatory that classes for handicapped children shall be established as of September, 1956, in schools throughout counties in the State.

In their report on the provisions of the act, Strait and Pitts pointed out that schools in Monroe County have made special facilities available during past years for fully or partially handicapped children with loss of sight or hearing.

Terms of the current act go beyond this, however, to cover special education for children who are either mentally or physically retarded in many ways.

The county board approved an application by East Stroudsburg Area Jointure for inspection of proposed school facilities to be added at Smithfield and Middle Smithfield schools. A team appointed by the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, is required to inspect the sites and proposed plans before they are submitted to the State for approval.

Budgets submitted by 13 school boards were approved by the county board. Districts whose budgets were approved were: Barrett, Chestnut Hill, East Stroudsburg, Hamilton, Middle Smithfield, Mount Pocono, Paradise, Pocono, Price, Ross, Tobyhanna, Tunkhannock and East Stroudsburg Area Jointure.

In all areas with joint school systems, the county board must approve both an individual budget for separate components of the jointure and the full joint budget.

Budgets not yet submitted to the county board are those from Coolbaugh, Eldred, Jackson, Folk and Smithfield townships.

Association Appeals For Home Funds

A MONROE County organization appealed for funds last night to negotiate the purchase of an 82-acre tract of land on which is situated a furnished, oil-heated home.

The Women's Association of Allied Beverage Industries has been raising money to purchase the property as a guest home for the needy aged, according to Mrs. Ross Smith, secretary.

Option

Its option expires next Monday. Mrs. Smith said that unless additional funds are forthcoming within the next few days, the WAABI will be unable to complete the purchase.

"The guest home we propose," she added, "would be non-sectarian and non-profitable. It would be a home where guests could feel at home and where they could feel they are part of the community."

Mrs. Smith said the house the WAABI hopes to buy could accommodate 18 guests at first. Each person would pay $50 a month for a room and meals, she said.

All contributions should be sent to Operation Needy Aged, in care of Mrs. Rose Smith RD 3, East Stroudsburg.

NAZARETH—Two 25-lap feature races—the first of the 1956 season—will be held this coming Sunday, 8:15 p.m., at the Nazareth Fairgrounds.

The added 25-lap feature became necessary when rain washed out last Sunday's stock car wind-up race.

There will be some 50 modified and sportsman stock cars from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania in competition on one of the East's fastest and safest speedways.

Head List

Heading the list of speed chauffeurs are Fred Fehr, Otto Harvi, Dave Rapp, Harry Charles, Dan Mitchell, Russ Myers, Ken Wismer, Blackie Reider, Stan Metz, Jack Bergstresser, Bud Olson, Spud Murphy, Joe Rosko, and dozens of others.

This week's races will include about 100 laps—a top show for the famous half mile track.

Newcomers

Recent newcomers to the track have been the popular Kershner brothers—Whitney and Shorly—both of Reading, Pa. Bologash, Tamqua, and Carl Van Horn, Belvidere, N. J., are other speedsters of note.

In the ostrich races last Sunday the winners were Junie Metz, Easton businessman, and Joe Mosbrook, WEST disc jockey. Other drivers who fairly flew down the raceway were Dopey Duncan, WKAP; Ned Flemming and Kern Gregory, WAEB; and Jack Rattigan, WHOL-WGLV-TV.

The show will start at 8:15 p.m. and there are acres of free parking.

Plans Completed For L.L. Journey

PRESIDENT Jack Mullins announced that plans were completed for the annual trip of Stroudsburg Little League players to New York City tomorrow.

The boys—more than 100—will take in the New York Yankee and Cleveland Indians American League game at Yankee Stadium.

Leave At 9:30

Two buses, carrying the boys and their chaperones, will leave from the Stroudsburg YMCA building at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. All boys are urged to report to the "Y" at 9 a.m.

Willie Mays began the 1956 season as the eighth ranked home run hitter in the history of the New York Giants with 116, five less than Hank Thompson.

Wertz went out of the game with a groin injury after a fifth-inning collision with the Yankees' first baseman, Bill Skowron, while the former was trying to field a low throw. Skowron was slightly shaken up but remained in the game until removed in the seventh for defensive purposes.

Not Determined

The extent of Wertz' injuries was not immediately determined. Bauer's homer, his 19th of the season but the first grand-slammer of his eight-year major league career, came off Don Mossi, who had just relieved starter Bob Lemon with the bases full. Lemon was the loser, suffering his seventh setback of the season. He was the first in a parade of four Cleveland pitchers. Mossi was followed by Cal McLish and Hank Aguirre.

Kucks Victor

The winner was Johnny Kucks, who gave up a three-run homer to Al Smith in the fourth and who had to be relieved by Tom Morgan in the eighth when the Indians pushed over two more runs. Kucks' record now is 12-4, best statistically on the Yankee staff.

TODAY, if the old rainy weather permits, the strength of the 1956 edition of the Stroudsburg-Barrett Babe Ruth League will be known. For out at Gordon Giffels Field, starting at 6 p.m., the pick of the local BR circuit will take on Valley All-Stars of Hazleton in the first of two games designed to get the champion of the District Two Babe Ruth ball.

Fifteen selectees and two managers—Al Schock and John Kulen—will attempt to spring the local BR Stars into the final against Bangor's Babe Ruth picks for the District Two bunting.

There is only one chance for Schock and his array of players. If they lose today then the old Brooklyn saying, "wait'll next year" will prevail.

Reports from the training field of the locals have Paul Frailey, a member of the Ronson team during the regular Babe Ruth season, getting the pitching nod from Schock. If Frailey is by-passed then Charley Lupin, of Line Material or Tom Gross, also of LM, may get the hurling assignment. No doubt, East Stroudsburg High's freshman catcher of last year, will handle the slants of one of the above trio.

One point in the local's favor is that the Stroudsburg-Barrett representatives will be playing on their home diamond. Psychologically, playing at home should have some effect on the potential of the area boys. However, if empty stands are staring the local lads in the face, there is a good chance that even the home town setting won't help out.

A good turnout might just be the thing the doctor ordered to lift the lads past the Hazleton nine. Oh yes, good play by Schock's boys will help.

Dick Melick, the former milkman, who looks like Country Slaughter, the fountain of youth outfielder with the Kansas City A's, is telling a story that depicts the role of a true "don't do as I do but do as I say" baseball manager.

The humorous tale starts when a 19-year-old boy goes to the manager of a Class B nine and asks for a tryout. The pilot asked the lad what position he played and the youth replied, "right field."

The manager ordered the youngster to go out in right field for some fielding practice. Using a fungo bat, the manager lofted a short drive toward the boy and the youth was so slow coming on that the ball landed safely 20 yards from the "onrushing" fielder.

The skipper then hit a high drive to the rear and the boy rushed in, instead of back, and the ball again fell 20 yards away from the mystified lad.

The third ball by the manager was a high fly that the boy camped under, however, instead of mitting the ball, the horsehide caromed off the top of the boy's head.

This tried the manager no end and he called the lad in and said, "you had better sit down awhile and watch me play right field."

Here one of the coaches took over the fungo bat and lofted a short drive toward the manager and like the boy the pilot was 20 yards away when the ball landed. The coach then hit one over the manager's head and again, like the boy, the manager tore in as the ball sailed far over his noggin. The third try was another duplicate of the boy's effort when the high fly caromed off the manager's skull.

And like he was with the boy, the manager was irked to an explosion degree. He rushed toward the astonished prospect and bellowed, "Lad you certainly have right field fouled up."

Pocono Lake, Barrett Rotary Notch Pocono LL Wins

Tobyhanna, Barrett Lions Are Victims In Clashes

LEAGUE LEADING Pocono Lake Lions and Barrett Rotary chalked up victories in action in the Pocono Mountain Little League last night. Pocono Lake humbled Tobyhanna 13-2, while the Rotary beat township rival, Barrett Lions, 13-8.

Pocono Lake, first half champions with an unblemished record, hung up their fifth successive second half win as Weirich hurled two-hit ball. Weirich also got the game's big blow—a homer.

Dunlap 3-For-3
Ralph Dunlap led the Pocono Lake batters with three-for-three. Nine runs in the first two frames was all Pocono Lake needed as they coasted into victory.

Shinen in Relief
Larry Shinen pitched fine relief ball to give Barrett Rotary its victory over the Lions. Norbert Ryan started before Shinen came on to shut the door the rest of the way. Clark and Norbert Ryan paced the victors with two hits each, including a double by Clark.

Berger, one of two hurlers used by the Lions, was the hill loser.

Stranahan Snaps Course Record

BOONSHATEW, Quebec, July 12 (AP)—Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who won the Canadian amateur championship over Royal Quebec's layout nine years ago, broke the course record today with a 67 and led the field in the first round of the $26,800 Quebec Open Golf Tournament.

Stranahan, playing as a professional for the last two years, shot a five-under-par round that stood up all day against the high-class field.

Equal Record
Stan Leonard of LaChute, Quebec, was the last player with a hope of overtaking the Toledo muscle man, but fell short by one stroke and joined the record-equaling 68 brigade along with Bill Casper of San Diego, Calif., and Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Cefarino Garcia, former middle-weight champion, drives a truck on a California movie location.

Softball Loop Furthers Plans For Class A State Tournament

MONROE COUNTY SOFTBALL League officials set prices for the annual Keystone Amateur Softball Association's Class A Tournament and furthered other plans at a meeting at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home, Stroudsburg, last night. President Joe Whalen was in charge of the session.

The local sponsoring group—the MCL—established a 50 cent admission fee for each series of games. For example persons attending the opening night's play, Aug. 3, will be charged 50 cents to view the games. Individuals attending Saturday afternoon's setos will pay 50 cents. The same holds true for Saturday night's games and Sunday afternoon tilts.

The MCL also set a dollar ticket charge for a blanket duet which covers admission to all games of the tournament.

Under 15 Free
Whalen announced that children under 15 years of age will be admitted free at all contests.

A deadline for advertising for the tournament's program was set for Wednesday, July 18 when the league officials and managers will meet again at the VFW, starting at 8 p.m.

Plans also were made to put up a snow fence around the outfield of the Stroudsburg Playground Field. Umpire-in-Chief Ted Stevens was put in charge of the project which will be set in motion Sunday, starting at 1 p.m. Stevens urged all managers to send representatives to the field to help with the fence job.

County softball commissioner Forrest Fabel sent out an appeal for 15 volunteer workers to help with the field planning program. The Softball Tournament will open Friday night, Aug. 3, under the lights at Gordon Giffels Field and will close Sunday afternoon.

Eleven NCAA individual titles have been won by Michigan State wrestlers since 1938.

Choice Of Vice Presidential Candidate By Democrats Remains Top Political Question

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

As of this moment, the chief question remaining on the national political situation is who the Democrats will nominate for vice president.

The word that President Eisenhower still intends to head the Republican ticket in spite of his recent operation comes merely as a confirmation, and his previous endorsement of Vice President Nixon to continue in that post leaves the Republican convention a formality.

In the last two or three weeks Adlai Stevenson has assumed a closely comparable position among the Democrats. Objective political observers are crediting him with at least 400 votes on the first ballot at Chicago, and his own supporters claim 500 of the 686's needed to nominate.

The possibility — and it is widely considered only a possibility — still remains that there will be enough die-hard anti-Stevenson sentiment, tied in with sentiment for Stuart Symington, Averell Harriman, Estes Kefauver and a batch of favorite sons to deadlock the convention. But there is no overlooking the bandwagon proportions which the Stevenson campaign is now displaying, although it may be happening too early.

Topic List

Selection of Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee as keynoter for the Democratic convention has put him at the top of the party's list of vice presidential possibilities, since he is a strong Stevenson supporter.

Kefauver is mentioned, by those who discount his chances for the top place, primarily in connection with the possibility of a Harriman victory. But he's mighty well liked in the Middle West on a general basis.

Bangor School Committee Lets Contract

BANGOR—Contracts for coal, painting, and the installation of a coal-fed stoker heating system were awarded by the Bangor Area Joint School Committee at its regular monthly meeting held in the School Administration Building here on Wednesday night.

Leroy Nicholson, Bangor plumbing contractor, was given the contract to install the heating system in the Columbus Elementary School Building, Roseto, for his low bid of $10,540. The contract to provide coal was given to the Bangor Lumber Co. for a low bid of $10.58 a ton for buckwheat coal and $9.78 a ton for rice coal.

A contract to paint the interiors of the McKinley and Roosevelt Elementary School Buildings and a portion of the high school building was awarded to Frank DeFranco, Roseto, for $2,725.

Other Action

In other action, the property committee was authorized to spend up to $1,000 for renovating and remodeling a portion of the high school lower level for a new home economics room for senior high school home economics majors.

Thomas Kirkland, Bangor, was hired as a janitor for one year, replacing Russell Whitmore, veteran custodian, who was granted a year's leave of absence.

Directors accepted an offer from Miss Eloise Bryant, of Stroudsburg, educational consultant, to interview the 90 children entering kindergarten for 10 days prior to the start of the coming school term. Directors agreed to reimburse Miss Bryant for her travel expenses.

Superintendent of Schools Donald B. Keat reported that three teachers have completed training for additional college degrees. They are: Mrs. Gladys Mace, who received her B. S. degree from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College; Earl Rader, high school English teacher, who received his M. A. from Lehigh;

At a meeting of the Bangor School Board prior to the Joint School Committee session, the Bangor school directors decided to keep the tax levy set earlier this month at $15 per capita tax and a millage rate on real estate of $5 mills.

Increase

The per capita tax represents an increase of $5 over the previous year's tax for a "privilege of residence" tax. The action was taken after some discussion on the legality of the new tax. However, Solicitor James Pritchard said, in answer to the directors' query, that he had received a "non-conclusive answer" from Harrisburg concerning such a tax but that several local school districts have been imposing such a tax for several years. He cited Upper Mt. Bethel and Forks Townships as two districts using such a tax.

The budget of $359,139.24 for the Joint School system was tentatively approved by the Bangor Board. The budget represents a record high for the school system. In a review of the budget, it was noted that the new tax added was expected to yield $18,830 in additional revenue, while the standing $10 per capita tax will bring in $37,660. Real estate assessment is expected to return $115,319.01.

Expenditures were listed as $313,372.60 to the joint school system as Bangor's contribution. Bangor's contribution is 70 per cent, while Lower Mt. Bethel Township and Roseto were listed as contributing the remaining 30 per cent to the joint school system.

Society Makes Plans For Services

BRODHEADSVILLE—A meeting of the Altar and Rosary Society was held recently at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church.

It was decided to serve coffee in the church auditorium beginning Sunday. This is part of the program of Country Hospitality for the benefit of vacationing visitors and friends.

Baked Goods

Council Protests

PARIS, July 12 (AP)—The leftist World Peace Council has protested to the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain against continued atomic devices testing as a menace to world health. A letter signed by Prof. Frederic Joliot-Curie, council chairman, said radiation concentrated in plants, animals and fish could do genetic damage to humans for generations.

About 6 per cent of U. S. men aged 25-34 go to the hospital annually compared to 14 per cent of those aged 55-64.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
